Story

• Kids will love Henry the raccoon!
• Children's dreams come true at Marvellous Mansion
• 7-minute stories for reading aloud or independent reading
• Entertaining, colourful and large illustrations
• Funny adventures for the whole family!

There's never a dull moment at Marvellous Mansion! And since Henry the raccoon moved into one of the washing machines in the café, hardly a day has gone by without Matilda and her cousin Joschi finding themselves caught up in some new adventure.

Henry is at it again!
In Vol. 2, a supposedly big bad wolf shows up, and Henry, Joshi and Matilda organise a festival, together with their neighbour Rocker Jimmy, to celebrate the apple harvest. They make pancakes over the campfire in the garden for all the guests. But after a while even Joschi and Matilda have had enough of Henry's flute playing…

The mansion opens its doors on a series of wonderfully charming and original stories about a big family. The characters have all sorts of adventures against the backdrop of this very original setting, but each individual story also incorporates an age-appropriate theme or issue that children will typically come across in day-to-day life, such as friendship, being helpful, arguing or feeling sad. In other words: The everyday chaos of family life! These events are combined with some favourite children's fantasies: A talking pet which has previously lived "in the wild" and can take the children on proper adventures without their parents interfering. Perfect for children aged 5+
