Story

Which book would you like to live inside?

Hunting through The Jungle Book on Shir Khan's back, fighting alongside Goethe's Werther against the witches from Macbeth, or gossiping with Elizabeth Bennet about the good-looking Mr. Darcy … Amy never would have expected that she could get that close to the characters of her favourite books! But she's a book jumper and that ability passed down for generations in her family enables her to jump directly into the books and take part in the story and experience the book world beyond the usual plot. Amy enjoys her new talent with enthusiasm – until the world of books suddenly turns into something it’s not supposed to be.

Author Mechthild Gläser has been awarded the Seraph prize for fantasy, and has created an entertaining fantasy story with plenty of atmosphere, a whiff of romance and witty double-takes. A gripping page-turner with plenty of jokes!

Mechthild Gläser

Mechthild Gläser was born in Essen, in the Summer of 1986, and has a degree in Politics, History and Econmics. Today, she still lives and works in the Ruhr area of Germany, where she occasionally dances ballet incredibly badly, but only when nobody is looking. She loves to think up abstruse stories, and has started writing at an early age. She finds inspiration everywhere, at best when drinking a cup of peppermint tea. Mechthild Gläser has been awarded the Seraph prize for fantasy.
