Story

Lola's life is riddled with crises. Mum is undergoing a baby-crisis. Auntie Lizzie has an engagement-crisis. Lola's best friend Flo has an Enzo-crisis (a crisis that happens when a foster brother moves in, who thinks that 'behavioural problems' are just the ticket!). However, the most dangerous crisis of them all is Lola's – she's got an identity-crisis. She has simply no idea what to do in the evening! After having a go at being a nun (too dull), and a grave-digger (too gloomy), she comes across the ideal solution at school, 'the perfect dinner' project. Lola signs up at once. Her evenings have been instantly salvaged, since, as the famous stellar cook, Cocada Delicada, she makes the world a happier place with her magical recipes. However, it remains to be seen whether Lola's life really is free of crises from now on...

Isabel Abedi

Isabel Abedi was born in 1967. After finishing school she spent a year in the US, working as an au pair girl and as an intern for a film production in Los Angeles. After her return to Germany, Isabel Abedi trained as an advertising copywriter. In the evenings she started writing stories for children and dreamed of being able to live off her own writing one day. This dream has come true now: today Isabel Abedi is a passionate writer of children's literature, writing for various publishing houses. With her series about the lovable Lola she has written herself into the hearts of critics and readers alike.

Her books have been translated into several languages and have been decorated with awards. Isabel Abedi lives in Hamburg, Germany.
