Story

Thanks to her wild pranks during their holiday in France, Lucy is under the strictest form of house arrest – round the clock supervision. The way things are, she and the boys will have to get used to living without playing parkour games.
With all these stressful things going on, Lucy could have done without a ‘Social Week’ school project that requires doing a fellow student a favour without them knowing anything about it. Lucy is a bit overwhelmed by all this, and opts for Billy, whose parents are in the process of getting divorced. Alongside Leander and Seppo she now has a third person to look out for – no chance of being bored now!

Bettina Belitz

Bettina Belitz was born in Heidelberg in 1973, and very soon fell under the spell of the book shelves. It wasn’t long before reading wasn’t enough – no, she had to scribble her own stories down, too. After university, Bettina Belitz worked as a journalist until she was able to devote herself to her youthful enthusiasms. Nowadays, she lives surrounded by horses, sheep, cats and chickens in a village of 400 inhabitants in Westerwald, where she is inspired by nature and weather to write her novels.
