Story

Nature, freedom and…no more school. Never ever again.

- Strong protagonist: A spirit like Pippi Longstocking and modern Heidi
- Thrillingly narrated by film producer & script writer Katharina Schöde
- Full of imagination and adventure time
- Encouraging layout for children with reading difficulties

Milla and her Dad are the perfect team – why wouldn't they? She cooks up the best stories and her father is cartoonist, second to none! If it wasn't for school…

What happens in Volume 1:
9-year-old Milla can't read. She doesn't see words, only cheeky ants are swarming through the pages. "You need a clear structure and a mother", Mila's teacher summarizes. Or she'll be send to a new school, one for children with special needs. That's why Milla can't stop thinking about a solution. A new mom could surely handle that... Actually, her Dad's colleague Greta could be a perfect match, wouldn't she? That's a plan! Her Dad enrols Milla at a holiday course in the mountains, so what? No worries! That actually gives the two of them time to fall in love, doesn't it… Why should Milla make her Dad note that she actually plans to run away?
