Story

When little fairies have enough!

"Always me, always me!" little fairy Emma has had enough. First she has to clean water lilies, then baby-sit her little fairy sister, feed butterflies and clean up her room. Her friend Egon is so much better off! He doesn't have to help at all and gets to flying around and play with other fairy children in the forest all day long. Emma really wants to be Egon, because like that she'd have a simple life. But as Emma's wish comes true all of a sudden, things turn out to be a little different after all...

Jana Frey

Jana Frey was born in 1969. She started writing when she was only five years old. After studying literature, history and arts she founded a family. Jana Frey has published numerous books for children and young adults and has been awarded several times. Many of her books have been translated into various languages. Her literary range covers picture books and novels for early readers as well as novels for YA-readers. Jana Frey succeeds in combining true background stories with fictitious elements - her nomination for the "German Adolescents Literature Award" (Deutscher Jugendliteraturpreis) with her title "Downward Flight" ("Höhenflug abwärts") bears evidence of her talent. In spring 2006 her well-researched and captivatingly written historic novel "Prügelknabe" attracted the critic's attention. Jana Frey lives in Wiesbaden with her family.
