After waking up, little bunny Hoppel urgently needs to use the potty. Don't forget to wash your hands! But brushing his fur? Hoppel isn't so sure – after all, the brush might poke, right? And what about brushing teeth, washing ears, or cutting nails – do you really have to do all that? Yes, you do! But with a bit of imagination and a playful approach, bathroom routines can be lots of fun – and afterwards, Hoppel feels great! This beautifully illustrated board book shows how enjoyable and simple body hygiene can be.

Everyone thinks Theo is cool. He's always funny, spontaneous, and quick-witted. Next to him, the quieter Jonah sometimes feels invisible. Nala is also a bit reserved, and that's usually fine – except when Jonah overlooks her. But when Theo gets into trouble, only Jonah and Nala can step in to help, proving that they may be quiet, but they're not afraid! Some days, you just want to laugh out loud and cheer with joy, while on others, you feel like screaming and throwing a tantrum. And sometimes, all you need is comfort and closeness. It's not always easy to deal with such conflicting emotions. Plus, not all feelings can be expressed openly, as they might hurt others. Recognizing one's emotions and handling them responsibly is an important learning process for children, helping them explore their boundaries. This book encourages conversation, supporting children in understanding their feelings, reflecting on their reactions, and finding themselves in its pages. At the same time, it inspires confidence in embracing all emotions.

This is the bilingual edition of Me and My Feelings, part of the Emotional Development for Children Aged 5 and Up series.

He inspects the cookies for freshness and motivates the firefighters to exercise—by running ahead while they chase him, a favorite pastime at the fire station. But one day, Eddie is kidnapped! Trapped in a cage and abandoned in the forest. What does a firefighter raccoon do in the woods? Start an animal fire brigade, of course! As it happens, a dangerous fire breaks out at that very moment. Luckily, Eddie is there! He takes charge and assembles a small team. But can a deer, a raccoon, a beaver, a vixen, and an owl really put out a forest fire?

„Tu nicht so!“, ruft das Erdferkel. „Ziemlich dumm, mir nachts einen Streich zu spielen. Nachts bin ich nämlich wach. Nur die anderen schlafen.“

„Das weiß ich doch!“, grunzt Pinsel. „Und wieso zerkratzt du dann nachts meine Tür?“, fragt Kukukufuku ärgerlich. „Ich?“ Pinsel macht große Augen. „Als ich das Kratzen gehört habe, habe ich gleich draußen nachgeschaut“, erzählt Kukukufuku. „Und was habe ich gesehen? Pinselohren!“, ruft er. „Ich habe PINSEL-OHREN gesehen. Du dachtest wohl, im Savannengras sieht dich keiner?“

Who better to capture the magic of summer in words than Cornelia Funke? She portrays what makes the world so special for children: friendships formed on the beach without needing to speak the same language, or the realization that you truly care about your little brother. Add a touch of fairytale magic: mermaids with cheeky crabs as pets and little dune pigs scurrying along the beach – naturally, the grown-ups can't know about any of this. Six delightful stories from the master storyteller invite readers to wonder, smile, and dream.

CORNELIA FUNKE was born in 1958 and studied education and illustration in Hamburg and worked for many years as a freelance children's book illustrator. She is now the most successful and best-known German-language author of children's and young adult books. In 2020, Cornelia Funke received the German Youth Literature Prize for her literary oeuvre.

STEFANIE JESCHKE studied Visual Communication at the Bauhaus University in Weimar. She works as a freelance illustrator in her studio for illustrations in Brandenburg. WHAT WOULD YOU BE WILLING TO DO

A do-gooder.

He studies medicine,
because he wants to help others.

But I'm not like him.

I don't care

what happens to other people –
whether their bones heal properly,
or if they survive a severe infection.

I study medicine,

because I want to understand,
how the human body works.

If I'm going to die,

I at least want to know,
exactly how.

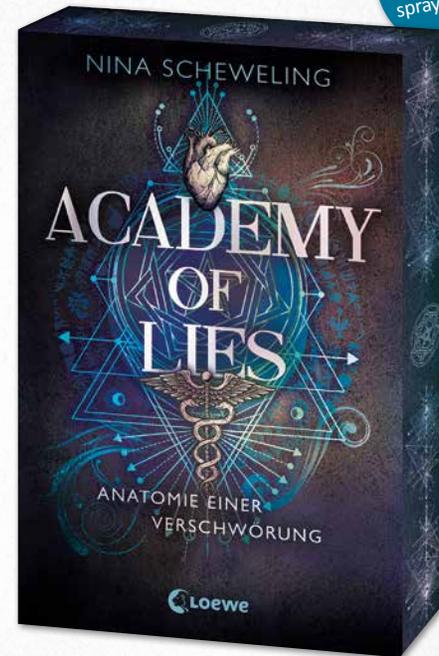

Everything else doesn't matter to me.

Meet our Loewe Licence-Team

A stray dog and his gang face off against a posh clique of elite animals, magical plants are the key to an ancient family secret, and a raccoon firefighter must rally the forest creatures to save their home from flames. Intrigued yet?

At Loewe, we're passionate about storytelling – whether it's following Flo the dog on his daring adventures, discovering Flora Cunabula's enchanting botanical legacy, or cheering for Eddie the raccoon as he leads a woodland fire brigade. For over 150 years, we've been dedicated to igniting a love for reading in children. We believe there's a perfect book for everyone, and we take pride in crafting stories that cross borders and bring joy to new readers. Because who doesn't love to have fun? And at Loewe, we make reading fun. Dive into our imaginative and versatile program – we know you'll love the journey!

Our very best,
Lisa, Olga, Sophie and Anna-Lena
