Between Temptation and Inspiration – is it Real or just the Fever?

Wanda's dream of studying art has almost slipped through her fingers – until one night she suddenly finds herself drawing like she's in a trance. And the next morning, there's a stranger sitting on her couch. Copper curls. Shimmering rings. The face of an angel – and visibly shocked that Wanda can see him. He shouldn't still be here. His name is Neo. And he's her Muse. He gives her inspiration. But the longer they stay together, the weaker he becomes. When it turns out they're bound to one another in a way neither of them can explain, Wanda follows him into his world – searching for answers. Why can't they let each other go? Why can Wanda see, feel, even taste him? And how is she supposed to know if she's truly falling for Neo... or just caught in the fever of the Muse? For centuries, a magical veil has separated the human world from once-glorious Ambrosia. Now, magic is seeping back in – and with it, danger.

Malou Bichon

Malou Bichon was born in Augsburg in 1995 and studied German literature and art history there. A northern soul at heart, Malou now lives in Hamburg – enjoying sunsets by the harbor or writing days in cozy cafés (ideally with a view of the water). Malou's stories are infused with magic and poetry between the lines, told from a queer-feminist perspective and full of raw emotion. When no new idea is knocking, Malou is most likely dancing the night away in some club, flowing through a yoga studio, or searching for the next tattoo design.
