About small accidents and giving comfort

Oh no! The little fox fell down while playing and hurt himself. Fortunately, other animals are on the spot right away and know exactly what to do: the bear takes the little fox in his arms, the hedgehog hums a comforting song, and the mouse brings a band-aid. And that's how the little fox quickly gets quickly all right again!

- Loving illustrations with rituals for comforting, which immediately help with everyday accidents.
- Developed with psychological advice: Using rituals and rhymes to comfort and calm
- Bestselling and innovative 'Ritual' concept: Over 50,000 copies sold of "Wenn am Himmel Sterne stehen" since 2019 and over 200,000 copies of "Der Mond ist aufgegangen" gifted to German families by the Ministry of Education
