The Secrets of the Sea.

Minik is far from home: after a long journey, he finds himself on a sunny island in the middle of the Caribbean. The animals there have never seen anything like him before and welcome the seal with curiosity. Minik observes how people keep capturing animals - soon including his new friend, the sea turtle No! Anything to please tourists. Not even in the water is the young seal safe from people, because divers keep trying to pet or feed it.

A lot of rubbish from two-legged people also finds its way into the water and colourful coral reefs gradually lose their blaze of colour. When a child suddenly finds himself in great danger while diving, Minik risks everything to help him ...

- The fascinating book series for children from 8 years and the whole family
- With lots of scientific facts in each volume
- Excitingly narrated and atmospherically illustrated in b/w (20%)
