A modern Christmas fairy tale

Wilma the little elf loves playing tricks on people – even at Christmas, when she really should be hard at work helping to get all the presents ready. This year she's decided to sabotage people's Christmas lights, and sneaks from house to house turning off the lights in every window, every advent wreath and every Christmas tree. But then Wilma starts to feel scared – will Christmas really have to be celebrated in the dark now? And is it all her fault?
