

Daniel Westland

Black Swans

ab 14 years

368 Pages, 14 cm x 21.5 cm

ISBN: 978-3-8390-0140-0

detail.variantLabels.

A DEADLY FORMULA... A YOUNG SCIENTIST... AND A HUNT, IN WHICH NOTHING LESS THAN THE SURVIVAL OF MANKIND IS AT STAKE

A young scientist, whose research is uncovering the purest dynamite.

A deadly formula, as sensational as it is destructive.

And a hunt, in which nothing less than the survival of mankind is at stake.

A shockingly realistic thriller, which turns a searchlight onto the current challenges of our risk society and aims to change our lives.

Jennifer is totally passionate about her research. Although this story begins with a breakthrough discovery about risk-taking, it quickly develops into a life and death struggle. Earthtec is a company with a global reach, and it plays a decisive role here. Its unscrupulous activities are the catalyst that is remorselessly working to wipe out human life on earth.

Earthtec will stop at nothing to prevent Jennifer from publishing her findings. As the action intensifies, Jennifer dares to fight back against an overwhelming enemy, while simultaneously engaging in a deadly race against the virus that abruptly terminated her father's life.

Daniel Westland

Daniel Westland is convinced that two things will make the world a better place: knowledge and dreams. He has managed to combine both these by writing books about facts, and novels. Indeed, he has already written lots of successful books with TV and high-society celebrities, as well as on his own account. Daniel Westland lives in Hamburg and the USA, and is married with three children.

Further volumes

Repeat

Paperback