Welcome back to Eisenheim: A dreamy tale set in a lost city

Eisenheim, the mysterious city of dreamers, is threatened by a power that defies understanding; a non-thing that is gathering in huge clouds over the suburbs. Flora is devastated when she learns that her soul has been living a double life at nighttime for quite a while, in a secret town called Eisenheim.

Flora has gotten used to her new life: during the day she goes to school, at night her soul wanders to Eisenheim, the shadowy reflection of our world. But danger is always looming: more and more districts of Eisenheim are being destroyed by a sinister force. The deeper Flora delves into the mysteries of this world of dreamers, the more often she wonders if she herself is responsible for all this mess. Could it be that she must ally herself with her worst enemy to prevent the city's downfall?

Mechthild Gläser

Mechthild Gläser was born in Essen, in the Summer of 1986, and has a degree in Politics, History and Economics. Today, she still lives and works in the Ruhr area of Germany, where she occasionally dances ballet incredibly badly, but only when nobody is looking. She loves to think up abstruse stories, and has started writing at an early age. She finds inspiration everywhere, at best when drinking a cup of peppermint tea. Mechthild Gläser has been awarded the Seraph prize for fantasy.
