Is Manuel guilty?

Click! The handcuffs snap shut, Manu is led out of the courtroom and his mother struggles to hold back her tears. Manuel, 16, has to wait in a holding cell for the judge's verdict. But he hasn't done anything wrong. He just wanted to be part of a cool group. Not to be the class loser for once. How could the visit to the stadium with his new friends escalate so quickly? Manu begins to think critically about his time with the ""Wolves"".

Rioting fans, broken windows, an injured man!
