In the new Logli Learning Mysteries, the reader is in charge of the investigations: a captivating mystery story and math puzzles that give evidence to the investigators to be solved. The children who read attentively and solve the math puzzles gather the necessary information: letters that help the detectives to solve the case in the end. A case for little detectives! - One continuing case - Math exercises lead the child closer to the solution of the case - Training in maths, reading, and advancement in concentration all in one! - Control of the solution with the help of flap-out detective page
