There's never a dull moment at Marvellous Mansion! And since Henry the raccoon moved into one of the washing machines in the café, hardly a day has gone by without Matilda and her cousin Joschi finding themselves caught up in some new adventure.

Henry is at it again!

In Vol. 2, a supposedly big bad wolf shows up, and Henry, Joshi and Matilda organise a festival, together with their neighbour Rocker Jimmy, to celebrate the apple harvest. They make pancakes over the campfire in the garden for all the guests. But after a while even Joschi and Matilda have had enough of Henry's flute playing...

The mansion opens its doors on a series of wonderfully charming and original stories about a big family. The characters have all sorts of adventures against the backdrop of this very original setting, but each individual story also incorporates an age-appropriate theme or issue that children will typically come across in day-to-day life, such as friendship, being helpful, arguing or feeling sad. In other words: The everyday chaos of family life! These events are combined with some favourite children's fantasies: A talking pet which has previously lived "in the wild" and can take the children on proper adventures without their parents interfering. Perfect for children aged 5+

Linnea Svensson, das sind: Sandra Grimm und Ann-Katrin Heger, die viel Spaß mit der wunderbaren Villa und ihren lustigen Bewohnern hatten. Klar, dass die beiden am liebsten selbst dort einziehen würden. Auf den Dachboden. Oder ins Nebenhaus. Oder ins Haus gegenüber. Auf jeden Fall so nah wie möglich!
