Sina is heartbroken. Why, oh why, did her family have to move from Berlin to Kranbach? Consequently, she is all the more relieved when the most popular girls in the school want to be her friends, and even the heartthrob Frederick seems to be smitten by her. Shortly after their first kiss, Frederick has an accident and falls into a coma. Sina is comforted by her new friends – but she is not aware that their smiles are concealing a deep and dreadful abyss... Suddenly, an evil trick runs its course and Sina's worst nightmare comes true. She can't see any way out.

The story is told from the perspective of one of the protagonists, producing an exceptionally exciting narrative and allowing readers to take a look, deep look into the horrible abyss of mobbing.

Janet Clark

Janet Clark wrote her first novel when she was eleven. Although her one and only reader was convinced of its quality, many further paths through different countries and professions had to be followed before Janet Clark's second work was written. This was an immediate success, and since then her fan community has been growing steadily. Nowadays, the author lives in Munich, with her husband and three children.
