Who will be the next Easter Bunny?

This year, the Easter Bunny wants to go skiing in the Easter holidays like everybody else! But of course, he can't allow Easter to be cancelled. And so he sets out in search of someone to take his place. Unfortunately, not all the animals have the necessary skills: the elephant is far too clumsy with the fragile eggs, the sloth is too slow at hiding them and the monkeys get up to all sorts of monkey business. But perhaps the kangaroo will be able to step in? His pouch would definitely come in handy for transporting the eggs...
