Syllable stories for learning to read

- Successful Reading Pirates titles in new form
- Strong topics
- Short sentences in large primer font
- Supports acquisition of reading competency through coloured syllables
- Popular with teachers, educators, and parents who want to help their children learn to read
- No obligation to follow the syllable concept

Julius can't believe it. A tiny elf is hiding in his knight's castle and wants to be his friend. Hanna gets magical visitors, too, but they want to be kept hidden from her parents. That's easier said than done, because Hanna and her new elf friends have to giggle all the time. And Annabel the elf is looking for her golden key and comes across an enchanted prince. The little flower elf tries to grow as tall as a human girl.

Helping children learn to read quickly

The Reading Lion concept aims to make reading a fun activity while actively accompanying the process of learning it. The concept offers books that are adjusted to children's needs and skills in all stages of this process. The syllables are marked in three different colours. This helps first readers to comprehend the individual syllables and the meaning of the words more easily. They will learn to pronounce every word correctly and read faster and more fluidly. Short sentences, simple words and easy-to-read font make reading very easy! Additionally, a sense of achievement will be experienced motivating children to continue reading and learning.

Kolloch & Zöller

Brigitte Kolloch, 1975 geboren, wuchs in Münster (Westf.) und Hannover auf. Bereits während ihrer Gymnasialzeit veröffentlichte sie Geschichten, Gedichte und Bilder. Nach dem Abitur machte sie eine Ausbildung zur Kinderkrankenschwester. Heute arbeitet sie auf einer Frühgeborenen-Intensivstation und ist weiterhin auf der Spur neuer Geschichten und Gedichte für Kinder. Inzwischen hat sie selbst eine Tochter bekommen. Elisabeth Zöller wurde 1945 in Brilon geboren, studierte Deutsch, Französisch, Kunstgeschichte und Pädagogik in Münster, München und Lausanne. Sie war 17 Jahre an verschiedenen Gymnasien tätig und begann vor einigen Jahren, Kinderbücher zu schreiben.
