What is a currycomb? Who rides in a convoy of fire engines? How do you do a pirouette? When does the referee order a penalty? 5-year-olds are particularly inquisitive and ask one question after another about their world. Our new "Picture Mouse Reading Dictionary" series is just right for them. Four exciting stories allow small readers to immerse themselves in their favourite subject, and, as in an ordinary dictionary, factual pages provide the most important information. The colourful discovery pages encourage children to talk about what is going on and reinforce what they have learned.
