You are a lot of animals - a whole bunch: a chameleon, a duck, an elephant, a mouse, a lion, a giraffe, a polar bear, a cow, a crocodile, a snake, a flamingo, a penguin and a frog. But tell me, which one of you actually has four legs? And which one of you has wings? And which one of you can swim? In this way, the animals arrange themselves in ever new groups and thereby recognize the similarities and differences.
