

© Torsten Behr

Agnes Hammer (Loewe, script5)

author

Agnes Hammer grew up with five siblings in Westerwald in Germany, before she moved to Cologne for her studies in German literature and philosophy. Today she works at an institute teaching young adults from difficult social backgrounds. Since 2005 she has also worked as an anti-aggression trainer.

Agnes Hammer just got the “Kranichsteiner” scholarship for the extraordinary written title “Herz, klopf!” published by script5 about EUR 12,000 and a residence of three months in Paris. (<http://www.deutscher-literaturfonds.de/?k=4&sk=27>)

She also received the “Kurd-Laßwitz” scholarship this year. Even before publication, she was granted a scholarship by the state of North Rhine-Westphalia to finish her newest title, “Regionalexpress” (regional train).

Further titles by the author:

Nacht, komm! (script5, 2011)

Dorfbeben (script5, 2010)

Herz, klopf! (script5, 2009)

Bewegliche Ziele (Loewe Verlag, 2008)

Agnes Hammer lives in Düsseldorf and for many years used to teach at a facility that offers training to socially disadvantaged youths. She is also a qualified anti-aggression trainer. Agnes Hammer was awarded the “Kranichsteiner” and the “Kurd-Laßwitz” scholarship for her exceptional titles published by script5. Even before publication, she was granted a scholarship by the state of North Rhine-Westphalia to finish her latest novel, “Regionalexpress”.

Works of Agnes Hammer

Titel (Untertitel)	Ausgabeformat	ISBN-13
Next Stop: Jihad	Paperback (160 Pages)	978-3-7855-8304-3
I'll Blog You Away!	Paperback (160 Pages)	978-3-7855-7706-6
Moving Targets (Wenn du dich nicht wehren kannst)	Paperback (200 Pages)	978-3-7855-7467-6

Ticket to Nowhere	Trade Paperback (272 Pages)	978-3-8390-0130-1
Night, Come!	Trade Paperback (288 Pages)	978-3-8390-0125-7
Village Rumours	Trade Paperback (280 Pages)	978-3-8390-0119-6
A Beating Heart	Trade Paperback (280 Pages)	978-3-8390-0104-2
Moving Targets	Trade Paperback (200 Pages)	978-3-7855-6475-2
