Story

Mariko's father has developed a new microchip. However, the chip vanishes and all the files are deleted too! Mariko and her friends decide to track down the criminals. But soon Mariko is the one being pursued ... To bring readers into close contact with foreign countries - this is the idea that lies behind "Global Mysteries". In every volume young detectives pursue criminals and readers help them by solving tricky puzzles at the end of each chapter. An appendix provides additional information about the country in which the story is set.

An entertaining crime story and a geography lesson all in one!
