Story

Together Against Racism in everyday life!

Wednesday is Argiri's favourite day at school, because on this day his father always gives him a meal from his Greek homeland. His classmate Esma comes from Syria. She stll thinks ofen about her old home and her fight. She is happy to be able to live in peace now and loves to race with her friends in sports class. Max asks Olli why he can't run as fast, afer all he is black. But Olli fnds climbing much more excitng than running.

This narratve non-fcton book sensitses children insightully to racism in everyday life and shows them how to live together in a respectul and fair way.

- For open interaction with each other
- Support for those concerned and their environment
