Reading, how dumb! You only get a headache from it, thinks Sea Wolf the pirate. He is already the horror of all seas! But one day, he discovers a treasure map with weird signs – could that be letters? How is he supposed to find the treasure when he can't read? Quickly, he boards a school ship and detects: Learning to read is not as easy as he thought!

Learning to read the other way around: here, the children are the teachers.
