Story

DIVE INTO QUENTIN JELLYFISH'S FANTASTIC UNDERWATER WORLD

Murray, the moray eel, has a terrible migraine. Serves him right, is what lots of the little sea-dwellers are thinking. They are very scared of the moray eel, who is never full. But Quentin's not like that. This brave little jellyfish wants to help Murray. There's some healing algae in his garden that can help with headaches. And, who knows, maybe a little gesture will persuade even the moray eel to reconsider...

- A valuable teaching aid: conveys important values such as helpfulness
