Story

Saying NO is sometimes necessary!

Sometimes you just don't want something. But whenever Emil and his friends refuse a piece of cake from their neighbor Mrs. Jahn, she is offended. So wouldn't it be better if everyone always said yes to everything? Then no one would have to be sad anymore! But when a shooting star spell makes the word "No" disappear, the friends realize that it just isn't possible to never say no.

Dagmar Geisler's internationally bestselling Emotional Education series provides parents, educators and teachers with materials and guidance for different age groups in order to communicate often difficult issues.

- Provides answers to tough questions and shows how important it is to accept each other's limits
- More than 1 million copies of Emotional Education picture books sold

- Well-established and highly appraised, published in 22 languages

Dagmar Geisler

Dagmar Geisler was born in 1958 in Siegen and studied drawing in Wiesbaden. After graduating in 1984, she worked as graphic designer and illustrator for several publishing houses and broadcasting companies. In 1987 Dagmar Geisler illustrated her first book for children, the “Leselöwen-Quatschgeschichten” by Manfred Mai. From now on she focused on drawing comics and illustrations for children’s books, which have been awarded several times. For some years now she also writes successful children’s books. Her educational picture books deal with recent and sensitive issues. With her sensitive stories Dagmar Geisler succeeds very well to transport useful preventive measures not only from an educational perspective, but also with a certain amount of excitement and humor. Today, Dagmar Geisler lives with her family in the Franconian Switzerland.
