Story

A science mystery set in Germany in 1908 around Lord Zeppelin and his invention, the airship. A lot is at stake for Zeppelin: he will receive millions from the government if he manages to steer his airship across Germany and back within 24 hours. But the children Eva and Heinrich discover that they have a traitor aboard planning to prevent the airship from landing anywhere. It becomes known as the first big tragedy of aviation: the airship goes up in flames. Still the traitor can be caught...
