Story

Funny interactive picture book! Do you think you can fit in one more animal?

This page is already full. The elephant takes up the whole page. No, there is still a gap for the bear. Now the page is full. Or is it?

On the supposedly full pages, there is always room for new animals in the smallest cracks and corners. Until a little woodpecker pecks at the worm, picks the elephant's butt, and all the animals on the last double-page spread scatter and tumble wildly.

- Awakens the child's curiosity
- With large fold-out page at the end
- Promotes combinatorial skills
