Story

In this turbulent second volume of the Vampire Sisters, Daka and Sylvania try to think of the best way to tell Helene their secret - that they are actually half-vampires - now, that she is their best friend. How will she react? Then things turn very dangerous when Daka and Sylvania are taken hostages at a robbery of the museum where their grandmother works. The twins decide that the strict no-flying rule of their mother's doesn't count in situations of extreme danger and together they use their talents in order to save themselves and their grandmother from the hands of their kidnappers.

- A perennially popular series of 13 volumes with more than 900.000 copies sold so far
- Wonderfully witty and original
- English sample translation available
- Two successful movies with more than 1.5 million viewers in Germany
- Coming soon: An illustrated relaunch for the younger ones!

Press commentaries

“Franziska Gehm turns the table – usually humans try to arrange themselves with the Vampires, in this funny and witty series it is the other way round.” Westfälische Nachrichten

“Gehm, author of the Vampire Sisters, concentrates on weird characters, hilarious dialogues and situations that arise from the clash of two cultures.” Buch und Maus

“Franziska Gehm has developed a story with many subplots and twists, so that the Vampire Sisters Series will be a joy to read for girls aged 10 and older... funny and exciting.” AVIVA

“A vampire story out of the ordinary for all who like a good thrill, but still not too scary.”
