Story

Now the clock strikes thirteen – the grand finale in Bindburg

Bistria's new president is forcing many vampires to flee – and where better for Uncle Vlad and the rest of the clan to seek refuge than Bindburg? Both the Tepes family's home and the entire town are soon overrun with vampires. And then the inevitable happens: people get wind of their new neighbours – who are friendly, but nevertheless hungry for blood – and not everybody is happy about it...

Franziska Gehm

Franziska Gehm was born in 1974. She studied English, psychology and intercultural economy communication in Germany, England and Ireland. After finishing her studies she worked at a grammar school in Denmark, for a German radio station and in a publishing house. Today she works and lives as an author and translator in Munich with her family. Many of her books have been translated into various languages.

Press commentaries

“Franziska Gehm turns the table – usually humans try to arrange themselves with the Vampires, in this funny and witty series it is the other way round.” Westfälische Nachrichten

“Gehm, author of the Vampire Sisters, concentrates on weird characters, hilarious dialogues and situations that arise from the clash of two cultures.” Buch und Maus

“Franziska Gehm has developed a story with many subplots and twists, so that the Vampire Sisters Series will be a joy to read for girls aged 10 and older... funny and exciting.” AVIVA

“A vampire story out of the ordinary for all who like a good thrill, but still not too scary.”
