- Teenage life narrated from the perspective of a cat

My name is Winston. Winston Churchill.

I am an exceptionally well-bred and valuable cat. Well, to put it more precisely, I used to be a well-bred cat, but ever since being struck by lightning, I have unfortunately been trapped inside the body of a 12 year-old girl called Kira.

That sounds crazy, doesn't it? I think so too. However, it just gets crazier:

That's because we can read each other's thoughts! So, I can read Kira's and she mine. I tell you, it's horrible knowing everything that girl is thinking! IT'S ENOUGH TO MAKE ONE'S FUR STAND ON END! Well, it would if I only had some.

Now, you are bound to want to ask how it could possibly have happened... I HAVE NO IDEA! What's more,

I couldn't care less. I only want to know how to get out of this mess???

Frauke Scheunemann

Frauke Scheunemann was born in 1969 in Düsseldorf, and qualified as a lawyer. She started by working on a placement with the North German Radio, and ended up as a journalist and press spokesperson. Since 2002 she has been a freelance author and writes very successful novels with her sister Wiebke Lorenz under the Anne Hertz pseudonym. The entire Anne Hertz output amounts to one million books. In 2010 Scheunemann's first solo novel appeared, called Dackelblick, which was an instant bestseller and became the first volume in a much-loved series. Frauke Scheunemann is married and lives in Hamburg with her husband and four children, and Elmo the dog.
