Take twenty-two-point-four steps forwards, five big hops and then seven steps backwards from the end of the world, close an eye, spin around in a circle, and hey presto! You've arrived in the valley of the Vulcanos! This is where Flambia and Krato live with their families. They are real, fiery, sizzling Vulcans. Vulcans don't sizzle for long. That's why – free at will for adventures!

What happens in Vol. 8:

Flambia is allowed to sleep over at Krato's house. But in the early morning they both wake up with an uneasy feeling. Indeed: the river has gone! They soon find out that the new neighbours have dammed up the river. When, on top of that, a thirsty dragon lizard rushes up they have to come up with a plan!

Franziska Gehm

Franziska Gehm was born in 1974. She studied English, psychology and intercultural economy communication in Germany, England and Ireland. After finishing her studies she worked at a grammar school in Denmark, for a German radio station and in a publishing house. Today she works and lives as an author and translator in Munich with her family. Many of her books have been translated into various languages.
