Story

I see something you don't see, and it comes true

As a child, Julian has strange visions. His therapist says that these are just faulty circuits in his brain, meaningless illusions. And with the right medication, they disappear. Years later, Julian is confronted with a shocking realization. Some of his visions seem to have come true. Is he seeing shadows cast by the future? So could he prevent bad events from happening? Or is he unleashing even greater disasters?

What if ...

... the future leaves its mark on the present? Following her recent bestsellers Erebos 2, Cryptos and Shelter, the Spiegel bestselling author presents her new thriller: Oracle. An exciting all-ages thriller about truth and visions between medicine and mystery. Ursula Poznanski tells of the dilemma of a modern oracle in a highly suspenseful way, full of twists and turns.

Ursula Poznanski

Ursula Poznanski was born in Vienna, and spent ten years studying all sorts of subjects at the university there, before abandoning all hope of getting a degree and getting to grips with real life as a medical journalist. After her son was born, she started writing books for young readers. Her first book, Erebos, won numerous prizes (including the German Children's Literature Prize awarded by the Youth Jury), and made her famous around the world. In the meantime she has become one of Germany's most successful authors, and she also writes best-selling thrillers for adult readers. She and her family live to the south of Vienna.
