Story

- Four different perspectives ensure a panoramic insight
- Highly relevant topics: abuse of power and populism!
- Very relevant for use in school

What happens when students take over?

For a project, students turn the school into a constitution – with a truthfully planned regime consisting of an administration with a jurisdiction, prosecution and police. Every student has a job within the regime or runs a business like shops or the newspaper. As the project takes its course, democracy turns out to be not that stable and intrigues, envy, and even violence soon prevail.

Carolin Wahl

Carolin Wahl was born in Stuttgart in 1992 but feels just as much at home in other countries as she does in Swabia. No matter whether the faraway places are between two book covers or waterfalls in the middle of Norway. She loves romantic stories just as much as a thick fantasy book. Today, the SPIEGEL-bestselling author lives with her family in her hometown. Further information on the author can be found on her homepage carolinwahl.de or on Instagram and TikTok @carolinwahl_
