SING FOR YOUR LIFE!

For Vicki, it's like a dream come true. She's made it to the finals in the new casting show, and now stands the chance on a remote Caribbean Island to win two million euro and a contract with a record company. But the competition is not simply difficult, it's deadly and Vicki's roommate Caroline is found on the beach – murdered! Her body has been buried in a sand hollow and carefully covered with palm leaves. Her hair has been brushed and her dress is clean.

Who could have committed such a crime? Was it one of the candidates that Caroline forced out of the competition during the battles? The members of the team get increasingly suspicious because the murderer is bound to be still on the island... But the show must go on; production is resumed as if nothing unusual had happened. Vicky tries to find the murderer by herself, but nothing in this Paradise is as it seems and nobody reveals their true face to her. Very soon, Vicky is no longer sure who she can trust... and whether the murderer would rather see her dead than simply curious.

Arno Strobel

Arno Strobel was born in Saarlouis in 1962, and studied IT before working for a large German bank in Luxemburg. When he was nearly forty, he started writing short stories which he published on internet forums, before tackling his first novel. It took nearly three years, a research trip to Rome and many ups and downs, before he managed to complete it. Then, after failing to find a publisher, he and two friends set up their own publishing house and printed the book themselves.

A few weeks after its appearance, the TV rights were secured by German TV. Since 2010, Arno Strobel has been writing for Fischer Verlag and gaining considerable success with his psychological thrillers for adults, which feature regularly in the bestseller lists and have already been sold under licence to many countries.
