Story

A Vampire Brother for Daka and Silvania!

Although his name (Franz!) doesn't sound particularly vampire-ish, this new earth dweller is more of an air-dweller and very similar to his vampire daddy (if one disregards his favourite food, which is garlic, and his terrible stinky farts). However, father Mihai is behaving very strangely – he calls his son Olga and dress him in frilly pink rompers. Schlotz zoppo – something's not right here! Has he got a dark secret?

Once again, Franziska Gehm has produced a wonderfully witty story, brimming with amazing ideas, for the eleventh volume of her successful series. The vampire sisters have to save their farting, garlic sucking and truly sweet brother from an alchemist, because in his youth, their father got into a lot of trouble and gambled away his first-born son...

- A perennially popular series of 13 volumes with more than 900.000 copies sold so far
- Wonderfully witty and original
- English sample translation available
- Two successful movies with more than 1.5 million viewers in Germany
- Coming soon: An illustrated relaunch for the younger ones!

Press commentaries

“Franziska Gehm turns the table – usually humans try to arrange themselves with the Vampires, in this funny and witty series it is the other way round.” Westfälische Nachrichten

“Gehm, author of the Vampire Sisters, concentrates on weird characters, hilarious dialogues and situations that arise from the clash of two cultures.” Buch und Maus

“Franziska Gehm has developed a story with many subplots and twists, so that the Vampire Sisters Series will be a joy to read for girls aged 10 and older... funny and exciting.” AVIVA

“A vampire story out of the ordinary for all who like a good thrill, but still not too scary.”
